BEST PLACE TO WATCH THE SUNSET

The Outrigger on Fort Myers Beach

Island legend has it that if you keep your eyes open during the final moments of the sunset over the Gulf, you can catch a glimpse of the fabled green flash. No place in Lee County offers a better spot to witness this phenomenon than the Tiki Bar at the Outrigger hotel on Fort Myers Beach. White sand stretches from the foot of the hotel to the waters of the Gulf, and a live band channels Jimmy Buffet as the sun dips toward the horizon. All in all, it's the perfect setting for a tropical sunset. And to see that green flash? Start with a couple of pina colodas.

BEST PARK

Lakes Regional Park

If you've lived in Lee County long enough, chances are you've been to Lakes Park. The 279-acre facility is often the site for birthday parties, corporate events and school field trips. Begun as a manmade rock quarry in the 1960s, Lakes Park was purchased by the county in 1978 and became a park under Lee County Parks and Recreation in 1984. It boasts a miniature railroad and official Start! Walking Path approved by the American Heart Association. Wi-Fi hotspots are now part of the amenities, so visitors can surf the Web in the pavilions and parking lots surrounding the beach.

BEST PLACE TO BIKE

Sanibel

Sanibel offers 22 miles of well-maintained bike paths. Riders have a chance to experience the island on a personal level, winding through Sanibel's quaint shopping districts, quiet neighborhoods, and beautiful natural areas. Bring your own bike or rent one from one of the island's hotels or rental facilities. Billy's Rentals on Periwinkle Way has multi speeds for $20 a day. Or go all-out and rent a two-seater ($65 for four hours). Try the four-mile loop through the J.N. "Ding" Darling National Wildlife Refuge, where you can hike into the refuge or climb the bird observation tower if your butt needs a rest.
