WorkGiant joins with Florida Weekly

WorkGiant.com, a national, performance-based recruiting employment website and career center portal, announced an exclusive partnership with regional publication, Florida Weekly.

"The WorkGiant.com concept has us very excited," says Pason Gaddis, publisher of Florida Weekly. "In today's competitive job market, WorkGiant.com puts the power back into the hands of job seekers and employers."

WorkGiant.com will power the employment segment of Florida Weekly's Web site, www.florida-weekly.com, the online version of the weekly news and entertainment newspaper. WorkGiant.com has provided to Florida Weekly, a customized web platform linking to their website that will allow their online audience to post jobs or resumes at no cost. ■

Shell Factory getting facelift

The Shell Factory and Nature Park has purchased the contents of the historic pirate restaurant Brigands in Cape Coral. Seven truckloads of furnishings, nautical antiques and artifacts are being moved to Capt'n Fishbones Restaurant and the 60,000-square-foot Shell Factory. The purchase will enhance the nautical and pirate theme in the restaurant and Party House, said Shell Factory CEO Nancy Mitchell. The Shell Factory and Nature Park is scheduled to go through a facelift and expansion this summer. Currently the attraction's landmark sign is under going a complete refurbishment. ■

Ronto Group wins award

Chapter 1152 of Phi Delta Kappa International has recognized the Naples-based Ronto Group, developer of Paramount at The Shores in Gulf Harbour Yacht & Country Club, as the 2007 Outstanding Organization. The building and development company was honored at an awards ceremony in Fort Myers on April 30.

The award recognizes the company's commitment to service and education in Southwest Florida. In 2006, The Ronto Group donated computers to Bonita Springs Middle School, supported Bonita Springs Elementary School's fence project and donated to the Bonita Springs Chamber of Commerce scholarship fund and the Phi Delta Kappa Walk for Education. ■
