

Institute of Interior Design holds open house

The faculty and staff at the Institute of Interior Design welcome all those who are interested in the field of interior design to attend an open house on Thursday, June 4, from 4:30 p.m. to 7 p.m.

The open house is free to the public and offers participants a chance to view students' work, take a tour, and hear about the industry firsthand from guest speaker Pam Durkin, president elect of the South Florida Chapter of the American Society of Interior Designers. Learn about your future in design during the informational session and find out more about financial aid options, such as the $7,000 Smart Choices High School Scholarship, for those who qualify.

The Institute of Interior Design has a skilled team of professionals and tailored diploma and degree programs that are suited to meet the needs of the industry. Learn more about the bachelor's degree program in interior design, the associate degree program in interior design and decorating, or the diploma program in kitchen and bath design, which is designed with National Kitchen and Bath Association guidelines and approved by the association as a supported school.

The Institute of Interior Design is located within the beautifully appointed International Design Center at 10800 Corkscrew Road, Suite 280, in Estero. Students of the Institute of Interior Design are in direct contact with professional designers and the unparalleled resources that the International Design Center has to offer.

Reservations are required. To reserve your space, call Nancy Ashley at 221-7249 or e-mail nashley@swfc.edu. ■
